Blind Submission Sep 23 2019 Books can be a dangerous business . . . When Blue Moon Books, the Bay Area bookstore where Angel Robinson has worked since college, is squeezed out of business, Angel is forced to find a new job. She lucks into a position as the assistant to the world-renowned literary agent Lucy Fiamma. Angel soon learns that working for Lucy is no picnic. The agent has a blockbuster ego to match her blockbuster success and Angel must juggle both her boss's prima donna demands and the strange quirks of her authors. But Angel soon becomes indispensable to the agency and develops a keen understanding of big projects and the writers who create them. What she doesn't realize is just how far one of them will go to get published. One day, a chapter from a mysterious manuscript by an anonymous author arrives at the office. Set in a New York literary agency, the novel, titled Blind Submission, centers on the ambitious assistant to a successful literary agent. Angel is pulled in by the plot—but her initial curiosity soon turns to panic. As the story unfolds—with chapters e-mailed in one by one—it becomes clear that the mystery author is writing the story of Angel's own life, including secrets she thought were deeply hidden. Someone is watching her, even plotting against her. Could it be her backstabbing coworker, her jealous boyfriend, or her seductive new client? When the novel's plot turns to murder, Angel knows that if she doesn't discover the author's identity before the final chapter is written, more than just her career will be cut short.

Saving Grace Oct 29 2022 Grace Broussard never thought she'd trust a man again... until she met the right McKenna. Declan was a P.I. and he made New Orleans a safer place, but Grace's case was almost too hot to handle. He knew she needed protection from more than simple blackmail. Every touch they shared knocked something loose, and the passion it ignited was too powerful to deny.

But every touch also brought the curse of the McKennas closer to fulfillment--and certain death. Now, only Declan could save the life of the future Mrs. McKenna.

The Friends We Keep Jan 20 2022 Why are women's friendships so tricky? During a particularly painful time in her life, Sarah Zacharias Davis learned how delightful—and wounding—women can be in friendship. She saw how some friendships end badly, others die slow deaths, and how a chance acquaintance can become that enduring friend you need. The Friends We Keep is Sarah's thoughtful account of her own story and the stories of other women about navigating friendship. Her revealing discoveries tackle the questions every woman asks: • Why do we long so for women friends? • Do we need friends like we need air or food or water? • What causes cattiness, competition, and co-dependency in too many friendships? • Why do some friendships last forever and others only a season? • How do I foster friendship? • When is it time to let a friend go, and how do I do so? With heartfelt, intelligent writing, Sarah explores these questions and more with personal stories, cultural references and history, faith, and grace. In the process, she delivers wisdom for navigating the challenges, mysteries, and delights of friendship: why we need friendships with other women, what it means to be safe in relationship, and how to embrace what a friend has to offer, whether meager or generous.

God's Saving Grace Sep 03 2020 This book is a group of poems that I have written at different points in my life. Some very low points and some very high points. The reason behind it is to help someone that can relate to the different things that I have experienced. Like at one point in my life, I didn't believe God was real. Also there was a couple of years that I was away from home and missed out on a lot of Jason's school functions and sports. I realized these were moments that I wouldn't get back. Then times like when I got off the road and was home and how God just blessed us so much. The Lord has put this on my heart years ago, and I was like, what can I possibly write about that anyone would want to read? Then one year, around Father's Day, I was driving to south Texas for work, thinking about the sacrifices my dad made for me and my brothers. So I wrote this poem for him for Father's Day. Telling him what he meant to me and how I saw all the sacrifices he made for us. These poems have a lot of emotion put in them. I think I have cried writing most of them. Some are written on pure emotion, while others are written on my beliefs. I pray that this book touches your life or someone you know. I give God all the glory because without him, this wouldn't be possible.

Pointing to the Moon May 12 2021 Each of us lives an extraordinary life; however, the artists are qualified to share their thoughts in a manner that preserves existence, universally. Two writers, Rochelle Lynn Holt and Virginia Love Long, shared a friendship that was both literary and encompassing of everyday experiences. The writers, however, also revealed their emotions in poems and collaborative published projects. This memorial, POINTING TO THE MOON, is a novel biography in epistolary form. Letters have become a lost art now that e-mail exists! But, once, there was time to reflect in long missives.

Gods Saving Grace Nov 17 2021 At times, the emotion of life can so overwhelm us that the only thing we can do is express those feelings by any means available to us. In God's Saving Grace, author Richard Rios has done just that, sharing the emotions that have deeply affected him over the course of his life and exploring the gifts that God provides. Written from both low points and high, these poems reflect his life experiences and recollections. From regretting moments lost to appreciating sacrifices made, these verses consider the varying roles of fathers in the lives of their sons and give thanks for the blessings of God. Through these poems, Rios hopes that others may relate to his experiences and find hope and inspiration in the glory of God. This collection of poetry offers one man's reflections on his life experiences and emotions, focusing on the saving grace that God gives to all of us.

Christianity and the Detective Story Jun 12 2021 Christianity and the Detective Story is the first book to gather together academic criticism on this particular connection between religion and popular culture. The articles cover the origin of this relationship in the works of G. K. Chesterton, examine its development through the "Golden Age" of mystery writers such as Dorothy L. Sayers, and include discussions of recent and contemporary television crime dramas. The volume makes a strong case for viewing mystery writing as a valid means of providing both entertainment and religious insight.
